Color Usage Primary Color

Color plays a central role when communicating with the Trip.com Group brand. Five colors have been carefully selected to reflect the Trip.com Group brand identity. We are proud of our primary colors. Our guidelines determine how our full range of colors are used and in what proportion. Always use the predefined color palette and apply it to any communication materials. Using the CMYK values listed for print communication pieces. For screen-based work, use RGB and HEX values.

Logo Clear Space

To ensure that the logo is clearly visible in all applications, always maintain adequate clear space around it. This space represents the minimum distance between the logo and any other design element or text. To ensure the integrity and legibility of the logo, the area surrounding it should be protected. All safe areas are equal to ‘o’.

Co-branding with partners

Use the primary full-color logo on a white background whenever possible. Use the logos in a horizontal positioning whenever possible. Ensure both logos are roughly equal in visual weight. In order to maintain our ownership of the marketing piece, our logo is always in the primary position on the left. When the logos are locked up, separate them by 2 x ‘o’ distance and the visual divider as shown in the example on the top.
